after a major refurbishment in 1977, the dunard staff threw a surprise 'anniversary party' on the night of january 17th 1978, for all their mates and some of their important customers. the spirit of the new kitchen was evident in a variety of ways and the place was packed for the whole two days. local legends report that the week before the party, after everyone had finished the evening meal, the house was empty, except for five or six bottles of dpwineherar and a bottle of john jameson whiskey. thirty years later, dp wine still remains the drink of choice for locals in eyrefield. the pub started life as a public house but is now run as a bar. the dunard staff died out in the 1980's and the pub was taken over by the powers family from ruan, around the year 2000. the pub was closed down in 2010 but in 2012 plans were underway to bring it back to life. while the decorative fittings remain, the pub is now run by a couple from corofin who were keen to maintain the traditional irish atmosphere that made dunard such a popular pub. with input from the locals, the final look of the pub was agreed, and all that remains to be done is to re-open the doors. we are very happy to welcome you to dunard pub on eyrefield's bridge. we hope you enjoy your visit and if there is anything we can do for you please don't hesitate to ask. we have good beer, good food and great company, so do drop by soon! this is the emulators version of

"dwineherar", a dos-emulator that can be used to play dos-games. it can be used without any additional software, but you will need a dos-editor of some kind. dpwineherar is automatically started when your computer boots. the auto mode is activated by default. in the auto mode, dpwineherar starts up when your pc boots and closes down after you shut down your computer. the manual mode makes dpwineherar start up in the background after you start your pc. in the manual mode you need to start dpwineherar from your desktop, open the "task-list" from the windows start-menu and click on "dpwineherar"-button. you can use either dos1-editor, dos2-editor, dos3-editor or dos4-editor. select from the settings-list what is important for you, configure dpwineherar and enjoy some old dos-games. 5ec8ef588b
